With 40,000km of well-maintained, waymarked trails, more than a thousand mountain huts, countless attractive villages, hotels, inns and restaurants, an integrated public transport system, and breathtaking scenery, Austria is one of Europe's most walker-friendly countries.

Walking in Austria is your guide to more than 100 of the best walks in ten districts that illustrate the rich diversity of the Eastern Alps – all the information you need to make the most of an active mountain holiday.

- 101 routes described, giving a range of walks to suit all levels of ambition
- hut to hut tours included
- information on public transport, accommodation, gear and safety issues
- full details of 135 mountain huts
- every route marked on coloured maps
- German - English language section

About the author

Kev Reynolds is a writer, photojournalist and lecturer. His first title for Cicerone appeared in 1978; he has since produced 27 titles for Cicerone, with others being researched at present. A member of the Outdoor Writers' Guild, the Alpine Club and the Austrian Alpine Club, his passion for mountains and countryside remains undiminished, and he travels throughout Britain to share that enthusiasm through his lectures.
