Fellrangers are inspirational and thorough – and together the eight books in the series provide a comprehensive and contemporary guide to the fells of the English Lake District.

The guides in the Fellranger series are ideal for practical use outdoors, and are equally useful for armchair planning. Each fell has its own dedicated chapter, and the variety of routes on the fell are carefully depicted on Harvey maps and fellscape diagrams. The scenic qualities of the landscape are illustrated by colour photographs and by detailed summit panoramas that help to underpin the reader-s appreciation of these magical mountains.

The Central Fells comprise the high ground between Great Langdale and Keswick. The area is flanked to the west by Stake Pass, Langstrath, Borrowdale and Derwentwater, and to the east by Grasmere, Dunmail Raise and Thirlmere.
